

Holmboe Reserve Access Preserved After Amendment

WXPR | By Ken Krall

Published April 11, 2017 at 2:30 PM CDT

LISTEN • 1:11

Travel Wisconsin.Com

A new owner of the former Taylor Park property on Rhinelander's southside is willing to work with the city on a new entrance to a nature reserve behind the building, but to make sure the city council approved keeping the parking area open for now.

Dwight Webb, agent for Rhinelander Acquisition Group, LLC told the council Monday that he is putting in student housing in the former nursing home. The city has an agreement with previous owners to allow public access to the 34 acre state natural area Holmboe Conifer Forest directly behind Taylor Park through the parking lot. This is the only access point.

Webb told the city council he is concerned about the public going in and out of the area with students nearby. City council member Alex Young said before any conditional use permit is given final approval, access to the Holmboe property had to be preserved in some form...

"...the existing access outlined in your packet is maintained until such time as some new agreement is reached. There's a possibility of some alternate access, so before we make a motion to approve the conditional use permit itself, I will make a motion to that affect that one of the conditions be that existing access is maintained until there's a new negotiation with the Land Trust..."

Tags

Politics & Government

City of Rhinelander

Ken Krall

email Ken

See stories by Ken Krall

* indicates required

Email Address *

Subscribe

Related Content

Politics & Government

Rhinelanders Approves Ball Field Agreement; Budget

Ken Krall, November 14, 2016

The City of Rhinelander and the School District of Rhinelander have an agreement to use existing softball and baseball fields after passage by the city...

Politics & Government

Two Meetings To Help Set Rhinelander Parks Use

Ken Krall, April 11, 2017

The public has two more opportunities for input on how they would like to see in Rhinelander's parks. A city committee has been meeting as part of putting...

Stay Connected

© 2024 WXPR

WXPR Public File and EEO

WXPW Public File

Policy and Compliance

Contact Us

Privacy Policy

Contest Rules

© 2017 WXPR-TV. All rights reserved. WXPR-TV is a member of the NBCUniversal Media Group.

